

Samuel O. Bozuwa, MBA is the Founder & CEO of Crypto World, previous company Strategic Vision Conference (SVC). As an entrepreneur and technophile with decades of experience, my expertise encompasses management, enterprise technology products, banking, product and project management, feature(s) and creative web design, brand-video creation and direction, scriptwriting, marketing, and storytelling. Samuel writes Software Requirement Specification (SRS) docs and conceptualizes programming logic while working alongside software engineers.

Around 17 years ago, Samuel generated $1.5 million within 1.5 weeks, which was 10x higher than the quarter's benchmark. Over the years at the same top U.S. bank, Samuel generated over $50M in deposit and new business. His first love is finance which he still likes, but his passion and proclivity revolve around entrepreneurship, technology, strategy and the humanities. Samuel founded his first company MYS in 2008. A social network platform which the fans of all 30 baseball teams utilized to message each other, follow stats, memorialize invaluable moments and a lot more. Samuel enjoys teaching, as well as inspiring teenagers and adults. Either fortuitously, or the handiwork of the invisible hand, he has been privileged to cross paths with business and world leaders. They include the former U.K. Prime Minister Mr. John Major, the former Brazilian industrialist Eike Batista (in his prime), both of whom he had a one-to-one with, and Henry Kravis of KKR. This is not a shameless name-dropping exercise, they are mentioned because of the unfortunate and inexplicable story which ensued, and led to a difficult path for years.

How I Got into Bitcoin and Crypto

After a 4-year research study on Bitcoin and crypto in general, insights gleaned from the study led to a revelation about Bitcoin's future and the role it will play in global finance, banking, economics, and, to a certain degree, geopolitics (BRICS). Additionally, how blockchain technology will disrupt multiple industries and careers. The realization fueled the passion to share, as well as to evangelize the findings and thesis. The best way to reach thousands, tens of thousands, and eventually millions is to create a platform that can assist others 24/7, 365 days a year. Whilst delivering a keynote, amongst many, one question stood out the most. The gentleman asked "that was a great presentation, do you run a Crypto University or teach courses?" That question strengthened the conviction to bring Crypto World alive to more people and businesses.
